Ontario to offer professional engineering services.

Prototype Shop Summer Student

Applied Kinetics Inc. is a full-service professional engineering and design company specializing in the design and analysis of automated machinery. Applied Kinetics was established in 1998. Recently, Applied Kinetics has opened a prototype shop, where prototyping, testing, and first-run manufacturing is done.

We are looking for a Prototype Shop Summer Student who will help-out in our shop. Rudimentary skills in welding, fabrication, and machining are required. The job will involve fabrication of shelves, fabrication of tool infeed an outfeed tables, refurbishment of equipment, support to machinists and engineers, and other odd jobs around the shop.

Wages

This position will pay between $10.50 and $14 per hour, depending on experience. Wages are paid every two weeks, by company cheque.

Qualifications

The successful applicant will be in high school or community college. Practical experience is a valid qualification in these areas:

- ▶ Rudimentary welding of steel
- ▶ Rudimentary machining on milling machines and/or lathes
- ▶ Some fabrication and assembly experience

Applied Kinetics is a professional engineering firm committed to only the highest standards of professionalism. We feel that we have a lot to offer:

- ▶ Dynamic, exciting work environment with highly motivated coworkers.
- ▶ Interesting variety of projects.
- ▶ Flexible time-off policies

Safety Equipment

The successful applicant will need to provide their own shop clothing and safety shoes. Safety glasses, gloves, hearing protection provided by Applied Kinetics.
